Dear Nilanjan Halder,

It is my pleasure to offer you a Visiting Research Scholar position in my research group beginning April 1st, 2006 to March 31st, 2007. Your salary for this period will be $32,000. The position is renewable contingent upon availability of funds and satisfactory evaluation of your performance. You will be carrying out research in the field of nanotechnology, and your responsibilities will include participation in equipment installation and operation, equipment management, material and device fabrication, material and device characterization, data analysis and dissemination of results through archival journal publications and conference presentations. In addition, you will also be involved in coordinating the research activities of the PhD, Master's and undergraduate students in my group. You will be carrying out your work under my supervision, and will interact with me on a regular basis regarding research activities and laboratory operation.

The Nanotechnology Laboratory is equipped with some unique equipment and I believe that this position will be a fruitful and productive experience for you. Please let me know your acceptance of this offer as soon as possible. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. Also, if you accept this offer, I suggest that you arrive here one week before the starting date to arrange for your accommodation and for the processing of your paper work.

Best wishes,
