As a Studio Head at DesignQube, Jaipur, I had the opportunity to get to know Kush Jee Kamal exceedingly well as an Architect from May, 2017 to Dec, 2017. In this duration, he worked on various projects such as Residential Architecture and Healthcare Interiors. While working on these projects, Kush Jee emerged as a creative problem solver with a high degree of technical and analytical proficiency; thus aptly displaying the desired qualifications and skills that DesignQube expects from its employees.

As an Architect, one of Kush Jee's main tasks was to interact with his team members and understand the way project is approached, designed and executed. During his tenure, he undertook various jobs ranging from conceptualizing, presentation, material study, detailing, working drawings, client meetings and on site work coordination. He has a strong intellect for design and came up with excellent views for the space. His role also necessitates extensive interaction with vendors and different concerned teams like electrical, furniture vendors, graphic artists. He dives deeply into the technical details of each issue, carefully analyzes different dimensions, and communicates his findings in a clear, focused, and effective manner, whether written or oral.

I have seen a commendable growth in the quality of his design, presentations and communication skills over the period of seven months. Kush Jee expresses himself in a very pleasing manner and tries to assist others in theirs as well. I have supervised and worked with many young and experienced professionals, and it is my opinion that Kush Jee stands out for his commitment, thoughtfulness, and capabilities. He would be an exceptional candidate and an asset to any company he would work for.

I wish her good luck in both him personal and professional endeavors

Best Regards

Ar. Kush Jee Kamal has been associated with our firm as a Site Architect from January 2016. During his job period, he has been in charge to site supervision and for on site changes/modification as required. He has also been interacting with client for during construction discussions/ clarifications/ approval of material or design changes. He has a regular habit of preparing site progress report and is keen on completing the project on schedule.

With us he has supervised Residential, Commercial and Educational projects.

As a co worker, I find Kush very determined, passionate and hardworking person who can be an asset to any organization .
wish him best for future.
