1. Introduction of the Event

Goods and Service Tax is the indirect tax levied by Government of India on all goods and services barring few exceptions. Since its inception in the year 2017, this act has been a major contention for people. The very dynamic nature of this act makes it even more trivial and complex. Every year amendments are being incorporated and the slabs also are not static. This makes the GST regime more complex and at the same time an important topic to have a knowledge and understanding. Keeping these in view and Short-Term Course on GST was conducted. The course was scheduled from 25th April to 29th April with Industry Experts as speakers and course instructors.

Expense and Income: (Note-sheet attached)

As proposed in the note-sheet.

Rs 100/- charged from the students of MUJ.

Rs 200/- Charged from candidates outside MUJ

Free for Faculty members of MUJ

A link for same was created by the finance department of the university.

Total 537 candidates paid fee out of which one candidate was non-MUJ candidate. Hence total income generated:

$536 \times 100 = 53600$
$1 \times 200 = 200$
Total 53800/- INR

As per the note-sheet 30% of receivables are to be paid to the speakers. Hence net payable $53800 @ 30\% = 16140/-$ INR. (Not paid yet)

The remaining amount shall be accounted for School of Law and School of Business and Commerce (50% each).

2. Objective of the Event

The BIG Question: GIRLS VS BOYS?

The most common question that arises.

Advertising & Marketing is such a field where there's no fear of not getting equal representations, not giving equal opportunities or facing stereotypes.

Many studies suggest that advertising and marketing have a negative influence on ad reactance towards men and women but as a sector, at least in India, it's the safest sector.

Fun Fact: The Account Management team at my company has majority of women.

While studies suggest that women are sometimes undermined in terms of salary pay, opportunities and experience discrimination, it is a very less known fact that both genders face the same challenges. While technical and data heavy jobs see more male hirees, women are found in full capacity related to creative jobs like designers, architects, etc.

According to popular opinions, people always believe that women face more injustice in the professional world, but that is absolutely not true.
