Pak's 'spy confession video' targeted at Sharif, scuttling talks with India

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Islamabad/New Delhi: The Pakistan government on Tuesday released alleged Indian spy Kulbushan Yadav's confessional video in which he is shown owning up to his clandestine activities in the country. However, the Indian government was quick to reject the allegation that the "individual involved in subversive activities in Pakistan" had acted at its behest, and counter-charged that the former navy officer was "tutored" by Pakistan.

The video was aired during a joint press conference by information minister Pervez Rasheed and the military's spokesman Lt Gen Asim Saleem Bajwa. Yadav was arrested last week in Chaman, a border town with Afghanistan, in Pakistan's insurgency-infested Balochistan province. Both the officials termed Yadav's arrest a big achievement of the country's intelligence agencies.

"Yadav, a serving Indian Navy officer, was directly handled by the RAW chief, the Indian National Security Adviser and the RAW's joint secretary," the military spokesman, Bajwa, told reporters. "Your monkey is with us," Bajwa said, adding that Yadav gave Inter Services Intelligence (ISI) the code to contact RAW that he has been arrested.

Soon after his arrest, the Indian foreign ministry confirmed that he was an Indian national and a former Navy officer and sought for him in India's embassy counselor's ac-

New Delhi: The "confession" of former Indian naval officer Kulbushan Yadav, arrested recently in Pakistan, showing him linking RAW to Balochistan unrest may not be aimed solely at cornering India but rather an attempt by certain elements in the Pakistani security establishment to target their own Prime Minister for pushing talks with India.

"Sections within Pakistan are opposed to resumption of dialogue with Pakistan. The timing of arrest of Yadav was just ahead of Pakistani PM Nawaz Sharif's expected meeting with his Indian counterpart Narendra Modi in Washington. This is amply clear from the activity on Pakistani social media following Yadav's arrest. With Sharif now calling off his US visit, the purpose of playing up the arrest and RAW's alleged role in Balochistan, appears to have been served," said an intelligence officer.

Meanwhile, sources in the Indian foreign ministry said that the statement by the arrested person clearly indicates tutoring. "We are concerned about his well-being," an MEA spokesman said.

In the video, Yadav confirmed that he "lives in Mumbai" and is "still a serving officer" of Indian Navy. "My cover name was Hussain Mubarak Patel," he said.

"By 2002, I commenced intelligence operations. In 2003, I established a small business in Chabahar in Iran. As I was

Indian security establishment see a whole lot of discrepancies in Yadav's "confession", a video clip of which was played at a press conference of the Inter Services Public Relations, the media wing of Pakistan's military, in Pakistan. His claim that he was treated with "honour and respect" the moment he revealed his identity as a "serving officer of the Indian Navy", sounds a bit rich considering that Pakistan is rarely known to "respect" prisoners of war in accordance with the international conventions and has in many cases sent back mutilated bodies of Indian soldiers captured and killed by its forces.

Another give-away is the alleged reference to Jadhav working under the directions of RAW chief. Officers say though RAW may not be sponsoring terror activities in Pakistan on par with ISI who are known to motivate terror acts in India, but it is certainly not so dumb to expose its top man to undercover agents working in one of the most difficult regions.

"Any intelligence man would know that the RAW chief does not directly deal with those involved in operations," said an officer. Incidentally, sources in the Indian security establishment even denied that any officer by the name of Anil Kumar Gupta was working in RAW.

Another give-away that Jadhav was "tutored" into making the "confession" is the alleged code word cited by him for a RAW spy being caught. "The script-writer must be commended for his sense of humour in coming up with a code word like 'Your monkey is with us'," said an officer of the Indian security establishment.

able to achieve undetected existence and visits to Karachi in 2003 and 2004 and, having done some basic assignments with in India for RAW, I was picked up by RAW in 2013," Yadav revealed.

He further said that he was responsible for supervising activities in Karachi and Balochistan at the behest of RAW. "I have role in the deteriorating law and order situation in Karachi," he is on record stating.

NIA gives proof of JeM's hand in Pathankot attack to Pak team

Neeraj Chauhan & Bharti Jain | TNN

New Delhi: Weeks after killing the four fidayeen attackers in Pathankot air base, National Investigation Agency had got a strong disclosure from captured Jaish-e-Mohammad militant Siddiq Gujjar, caught on February 25 by the army, on how the strike was carried out at the behest of Maulana Masood Azhar.

NIA presented to the visiting Pakistani delegation this crucial confessional evidence, among others, exclusively accessed by TOI. It nails the neighbouring country and brings out the conspiracy of Azhar-headed JeM to target Indian defence establishments.

On the basis of Gujjar's interrogation, NIA informed the Pak officials that several fidayeen attacks have been carried out by JeM under Maulana Masood Azhar and his brother Abdul Rauf. It will now seek access to Azhar and others and ask the Pak officials to act against them before travelling to Pakistan for investigations.

Gujjar (17), a resident of Sialkot in Pakistan, was arrested by the army from Baramulla last month while his three fidayeen associates - Hussain, Malik and Rizwan - were killed when they carried out an attack on an army camp in Tangdhar (J&K) on November 25 last year. After the November attack, Gujjar had managed to flee and hid in forest for a few days before settling in Baramulla with the help of some locals.

In fact, Pakistani officials, who were taken to Pathankot air base on Tuesday, were shown that food packets found with the Pathankot attackers were the same as given to Siddiq and his associates and these bore Karachi markings.

How can a 58-yr-old snatch rifle from a 'fit terrorist', asks JIT

Pathankot Air Force Base: How can a 58-year-old retired jawan snatch an AK-47 out of the hands of a fit terrorist and kill him? This was one of the questions that members of the joint investigation team (JIT) from Pakistan asked during their visit to the Pathankot airbase on Tuesday.

National Investigation Agency (NIA) officials accompanying JIT sleuths replied that Jagdish Chand, the defence security corps jawan who had killed one of the terrorists before being shot down, had been part of the Dogra regiment whose men never forget to use a firearm.

Seven Indian security personnel were killed in the 72-hour gun battle that started on January 2. Chand was among the first to be killed. As loud protests by Congress and AAP workers accompanied by local residents raged outside the airbase, NIA officials took the JIT members in by breaking down one of the walls at the back and creating a makeshift entry point.

The tour was conducted only after most of the key assets, including the MiG-21 BIS fighter jets and Mi-25 and Mi-35 attack helicopters stationed there, were camouflaged. NIA also took away all electronic gadgets from JIT members, including their cellphones. JIT was taken to the kitchen, where the first encounter with the terrorists took place. At least three JIT members asked questions about Chand's bravery.

Sources said NIA had questioned him recently and got crucial inputs about the attacks in Tangdhar, Samba, Kathua and Pathankot, which took place in last one year, all targeting the security forces. NIA has also provided evidence on another Pak-based JeM operative Shahid Latif who closely monitored the Pathankot attack.
